GOVERNOR MAY GIVE DECISION

On Thaw Case on Saturday, it Is Stated at Concord.

Concord, Nov. 5.—Gov. Samuel D. Parker stated tonight that he would probably give his decision in the matter of extraditing Harry K. Thaw Saturday. He will come to Concord Friday for a meeting of the council, and Saturday will give out his findings from his office in the state house.

William Travers Jerome has until tomorrow night to file an answer to the briefs submitted to the governor for his consideration in opposition to the extradition of Thaw. Bernard L. Jacobs of Lancaster, the New Hampshire representative of the state of New York, talked with Jerome over the telephone today, but he stated that Jerome was undecided whether or not to file a reply.

SAILORS RELATE HORRIBLE TALE

Abandon Schooner When She Runs On Shoal Off Nantucket.—Crew Afloat in Small Boats Without Food or Drink

Portland, Nov. 5.—It was a strange tale of the sea which the crew of the Gloucester fisherman Annie M. Parker brought to this port tonight, involving the death of their cook and the probable loss of their captain and three other members of the crew, together with a freak of old ocean which had made all their hardships and losses unnecessary.

The nine survivors of the Parker's crew came here aboard the lumber schooner Tifton, which had picked them up in dories 30 miles off Nantucket Sunday morning, after they had been afloat 24 hours without food or drink. A tenth survivor, Harry Nelson, of Beverly, son of Capt. Vincent Nelson of Salem, was left behind on the Boston fisherman, Josie and Phoebe, exhausted from the ordeal, but hoping to find trace of his father.

Cook Washed Overboard.

Reuben Kenney, the cook, found a watery grave when he was washed from a dory while his mates in distress looked on powerless to help. His home was in Glenwood, N. S., where he left seven children. The missing men, besides Captain Nelson, were: LESTER FLETCHER of Argyle Sound, N. S.; ROSS WORTHEN of Pubnicohead, N. S.; THOMAS LANDRY of Arichat, C. B.

The Annie M. Parker, bound home from the fishing grounds and carried off her course by adverse winds, went aground on Rose and Crown shoal, off the Nantucket coast early Saturday morning.

The vessel was pounded by the waves, and the crew agreed, with Captain Nelson, that hope for safety lay in getting clear of their craft. So they abandoned her.

One of Sea's Vagaries.

By an odd freak of chance, one of the vagaries of the sea, the Annie M. Parker preceded the crew which had abandoned her, into a port. The schooner, staunch and firm apparently, with only a jib missing, was towed into New Bedford today carrying a mystery in the question, "Why should a good ship be abandoned by its crew, and where was the crew?"

The Parker had been sighted Monday drifting with all sails set by the British steamer Astrakhan, which placed a prize crew aboard and her arrival at the whaling port followed.

It was believed here tonight that the Parker must have been floated clear of the ledge after being abandoned by her crew, and while the men of the fishing boat were fighting for their lives in cold shell dories, losing one of their number and probably five, their craft rode the seas in good shape and brought up safe and comparatively sound.

Runs Into Heavy Gales.

The Parker sailed from Sydney, N. S., for Gloucester on Oct. 26. Shortly after leaving Sydney the fishermen ran into northwest gales. With the run of the tides, she was driven far off her course. After days of jockeying with

CELEBRATED HER 97TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary A. Rand, a Woman Possessing Many Noble Qualities.

On the 4th instant, at the home of her son, Mr. John A. Rand, with whom she resides on South street, Mrs. Mary S. Rand observed her 97th birthday, but for this sweet old time lady something more than passing mention of her great age should be made.

Widowed while in the prime of life, with three small boys to provide for and maintain, she set bravely and cheerfully about her task with that courage and Spartan fortitude which was soon to bear a most severe task of a mother's love to her children or her duty to her country.

The breaking out of the Civil war called for volunteers to defend the old flag and maintain the union. Her boys were then just entering into early manhood and of great help, comfort and support to their widowed mother. What a struggle! What a terrible battle was going on in that mother's heart, yet devotion and duty to her country won, and she bade them go with a mother's blessing and benediction.

Francis W., in the 3th New Hampshire regiment, John Alonzo and Edwin D. in the 7th New Hampshire, the two latter serving three years and ten months, and participating in 22 battles. Both received wounds on the field of battle and were promoted to lieutenant and captain. Francis sickened and died and is buried at Camp Nelson, Kentucky.

May God bless this brave mother, one of America's noblest of her sex. Can we realize and appreciate the great sacrifice she made when she permitted her own, her all, to be sent from her to the strife of war, the field of slaughter?

What a privilege it is to sit and talk with her whose memory of the reminiscences of the past are as fresh in her mind as though they were the happenings of yesterday! What a lesson one can learn of self sacrifice and devotion to duty to one's country and faith not shaken in One who doeth all things well! What an example to the young mothers of our country that they, like her may bid their sons go forth with a mother's blessing and take their place in the field of business or battle and men among men. The fields of battle find many heroes, but are there any greater than the mothers who sacrifice their all for duty and duty's sake?

All honor to her, one of God's most noble women. May she be spared to us for years to come, that by her sweet ways and noble example we may all make life better and feel as we look back that we have accomplished something for the good of our country and our religious faith.

GIRLS' CLUB NOTES

Girls don't forget to bring your sewing to the club this evening. The regular monthly business meeting will be held, followed by a social hour, and Miss Edith G. Brewster will favor the girls with readings. Her first selection will be "A Slatery Scheme," a story written by H. C. Dunner; and the second will be "The Necklace," by Guy de Maupassant.

The Embroidery Class will be omitted this evening on account of the business meeting.

The art needlework department of the Grafton Club holds its first meeting of the season at the Girls' Club room this afternoon.

The first public event of the season was in every way a success, that of the first of the series of Opera Talks held in Association Hall on Wednesday evening.

P. H. S. NOTES.

The local boys will play against Exeter High school at Exeter on Saturday morning.

The "P. H. S." is very enthusiastically undertaken by the students, and it is expected that the first issue will come out before Christmas.

The students who have been confined to their homes from various illnesses, have nearly all returned to school to resume their studies.

The play entitled "The Sleeping Car" is interesting. The seniors at present and plans are being made for it. The date and cast will be announced later. The play will be presented on Friday evening, Dec. 5, for the benefit of the P. H. S. athletic association.

When baby suffers with eczema or some itching-skin trouble use Doan's Ointment. A little of it goes a long way and it is safe for children. 50 cents a box at all stores.

The Herald is increasing daily in popularity with the reading public.

LIGHT SENTENCES FOR PRISONERS

Wilfred Langley of Exeter the Only One to Receive a State Prison Sentence at Hands of Judge Pike

At the opening of superior court this morning the arraignment of the prisoners took place. A dozen or so juveniles were taken up afterward by Judge Pike, that had come before the juvenile court.

The arraignment and disposition of the prisoners was as follows:

George Wolfe of Kittery, charged with rape, pleaded not guilty.

Hurry Lowe of Lynn, charged with breaking and entering the store of Amos O. Hemfield pleaded guilty.

John Eaton of Lynn, Mass., charged with breaking and entering and larceny of millage books from the B. & M. station at Newmarket pleaded guilty.

Sadie Oliver of Portsmouth charged with adultery, pleaded not guilty.

Nathaniel Scott of Portsmouth charged with adultery, pleaded not guilty.

Mary Kruger charged with larceny had her case continued at the request of the county solicitor, and was released on her personal recognizance.

When the case of Ella Doctor of Candia was reached County Solicitor Guphill said that she was at the house of correction and was undoubtedly insane. He asked that the court commit her to an asylum for observation.

Sentences imposed.

Judge Pike imposed the following sentences:

George Howes of Exeter charged with larceny, six months in jail, on one indictment, and nine months on the second indictment; the latter sentence to be enforced at the call of the county solicitor.

John Mason of Portsmouth, obtaining goods under false pretences, case continued for sentence.

John Mason of Portsmouth, obtaining goods under false pretences, case continued for sentence.

John Mason of Portsmouth, case continued for sentence.

Wilfred Langley of Exeter charged with rape, sentenced to one year in state prison.

Joseph Alandie of Exeter was sentenced to eight months in jail.

Carmello Costa and John Mortelli of Portsmouth, charged with larceny, retried their plea and pleaded guilty. They were fined $50 and costs of $20. A years sentence was suspended, mitimus to be issued at the call of the county solicitor.

FOUND HER DEAD NEAR STAIRS

Had Lived Alone—Expires From Heart Trouble During the Night.

Mrs. A. L. Robinson, an aged lady residing at No. 110 State street, was found dead this forenoon by Mrs. John Desmond, a next door neighbor, and Mr. Merchant who looked after the furnace in the dwelling. On the arrival of Mr. Merchant he found all the lights burning, the same as when he left on Wednesday night. He attempted to get in but the doors were all fastened. He called Mrs. Desmond and they forced an entrance through a window. In going to the chambers they discovered Mrs. Robinson lying at the head of the stairs where she had expired during the night. Dr. Berry was called and pronounced death due to heart trouble, from which she had been suffering for some time. She was about 75 years of age and had been living alone for some time. She is not known to have any relatives.

LISTEN TO REPORTS.

Grafton Club Holds First Meeting of the Season on Wednesday.

The Grafton Club held the first meeting of the season at Association hall at 3:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. The regular business meeting was carried up and reports of the field meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs were read. Following the business meeting a reception was given to the new members, a large number having been recently admitted. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments of ices and cakes were served by the hostesses: Mrs. Meyer P. Alkan, Mrs. William P. Miskell, Mrs. Daniel W. Badger, Mrs. Ralph C. Dickey.

MIDDLE STREET CHURCH NOTES.

The Men's class of the Middle Street church held a social in the chapel this evening.

The Girls' Guild of the Middle Street Church will meet this evening in the Guild room.

The King's Daughters of the church held an all day sewing meeting in the guild room on Wednesday. The King's Daughters are preparing for the entertainment and sale which will be given in the chapel of the Baptist church on Monday afternoon and evening, Nov. 24.

The Walker Mission Band met in the chapel at 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon with a good attendance. The following was the routine: Singing by the band; Scripture reading by president, Miss Dorothy Randlett; prayer, by leader, Miss Nellie Sides; Lord's prayer in unison; talk on "China and Its People," by Miss Nellie Sides.

Discussion of plans for coming sale and entertainment given in the near future. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

MANY LISTEN TO OPERA TALK

First of the Series of Lectures Under Auspices of Girls' Club Is Interesting.

The first of the series of Opera Talks given by the Boston Opera Co. for the benefit of the Portsmouth Girls' Club was given last evening in Association Hall.

Mr. Hubbard, Publicity Manager of the Boston Opera Company lectured on "Louise," the popular opera. Mr. Hubbard has 148 engagements through out the season in New England for the opera talks, and he received a most hearty welcome here upon his first appearance in this city.

He wins his audience immediately, and talks in an informal way, so much like telling a pretty story. He related the opera very vividly, so much so that one could see in the minds eye the characters in their costumes, the magnificent stage settings and scenes.

He was very interesting and held the undivided attention of his entire audience, which was very enthusiastic and appreciative.

Mr. Floyd M. Baxter rendered choice selections from the opera on the piano at intervals throughout the talk.

At the conclusion of the talk Miss Susan M. Northwick rendered a vocal selection, which is the most popular and the prettiest song in "Louise."

A rare treat was enjoyed and the music lovers of Portsmouth and vicinity are eagerly looking forward to the second of the series, "Tales of Hoffman," which is given in Association Hall on November 19th.

The entire arrangements were under the direction of the Girls' Club as a means to raise the required monthly amount of money.

The stage was attractively decorated ad with palms and red berries, by the girls which was very effective.

The sisters were as follows: Misses Frances Wiggin, Nora Malloy, Anne Malloy, Maude Frothingham.

Miss Bernice Gilden acted in the capacity of ticket taker, and the Misses Margaret Goodwin and Eva Beaulieu were in the box office.

This attraction brought out a good attendance.

FUNERAL NOTICE

Died in North Hampton November 5th Mrs. Ellen Harrison Dalton, aged 71 years. Funeral services will be held at the Congregational church, North Hampton Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. Prayers at the home at 1:30.

STRIKE BREAKERS INJURED IN RIOT

Indianapolis Strikers Completely Demolish Car and Threaten Many Lives.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 5.—An effort to resume street car traffic which has been tied up last Friday night by a strike, resulted today in the serious injury of seven strike breakers and two policemen and the entire demolition of a car.

A crowd of several thousand persons, many of them armed with bricks surrounded the car and prevented progress while a downpour of missiles from the roofs and windows of buildings along the route threatened the lives of the strike breakers and police.

Indications tonight were that the militia would be called out tomorrow.

A committee of seven of the civic and commercial organizations presented a unanimous request to Governor Ralston asking for troops and stating that the organizations would share the responsibility for the action. While Governor Ralston would not state what action he would take, he intimated that his reason for not calling the troops at once was that they would not be mobilized before tomorrow morning and he feared that the announcement that the militia had been called for tomorrow would result in a night of lawlessness.

Request Governor for Troops

The request for troops came after the governor had spent the morning in conference with the brigadier general of the state and the county and city authorities.

"There are a great many people here who are not working men," said the governor, "and many of them evidently are desperate characters."

The six strike breakers injured in today's rioting who were able to get returned to Chicago tonight at the expense of the labor union.

When John Sullivan, motorman in the car and the most seriously hurt, was knocked to the floor, the others surrendered and agreed to leave. Indianapolis. A number of strike sympathizers went back to the wrecked car later in the day to remove the car from the tracks and block further traffic on the line.

They were dispersed when a riot unit brought 50 policemen to the spot. Most of the cars which were deserted on the streets when the strike was called have been removed from the rails and will prevent any traffic on the all down-town lines until replaced.

Another death due to the strike resulted from Thomas Carleton who was shot in the Lombard street car barn riot yesterday, died today.

Strikers Make Concessions

A new proposition from the striking motormen and conductors in which they waive recognition of the newly formed union was submitted in Governor Ralston, by W. G. Healy, president of the central labor union, representing the men tonight. The demand of the employees that the union be recognized by the Indianapolis Terminal and Traction Company has been the main objection the company has made to the first terms submitted by its men.

The men however, still demand higher wages, shorter hours, and arbitration of all future differences. They agree that a committee of three shall form the arbitration board. One of the members is to be appointed by the company, one of the men and the third to be selected by these two.

The terms submitted to the governor demand that all the strikers be taken back into the employ of the company and that the men shall have a yearly contract.

Governor Ralston presented the new proposition to Robert L. Todd, president of the company. Mr. Todd refused to comment on the terms.

What Is Happening in the Harbor Town.

Beginning on November 4th the schools of the town will open at 8:45 in the morning, and close fifteen minutes earlier in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace S. Chase are entertaining relatives from out of town.

A belated yacht, the Nirvana, of Philadelphia was in the lower harbor on Tuesday for a few hours.

Sailed—Steamer Kanawha, for Baltimore, Schooner Rebecca Palmer for Norfolk.

On Monday the selectmen of the town will give a hearing upon the matter of permitting the Consumer's Fish Company of Newburyport to erect a fish weir in Popper's Cove.

The subject is one which has occasioned a good deal of heated discussion during the last few days, though as yet the exact location of the desired weir is not known, and without this knowledge, arguments for, or against the project count for little.

There should be no disposition to head off a business enterprise unless serious obstruction to the Cove is threatened, in which case the U. S. engineers will doubtless have a word to say. It is

The annual Yale-Princeton game has for many seasons been one of the bitterest fought athletic battles in the United States. This year's game takes place at New Haven, Conn., on Nov. 15. Before that date Princeton will

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meats and Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Out Kidneys—
Drink Plenty of Water

Uric Acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps in back. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidneys; then you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizziness, stomach gets sore; tongue coated any you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat; drink lots of water, also get from your pharmacist, from a druggist or from a chemist, a bottle of Jad Salts; take a tea-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then get fine. This famous cathartic is made from the acid of grape and lemon juice, combined with HCL, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acid in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent little-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in over-cleaning their kidneys.

WHERE CLOCKS ARE CURIOSITIES.

Clocks are regarded as curiosities by many of the Hindus and for a reason half a dozen or more timepieces are often found in the apartments of the wealthy Hindustanese. They are not used as time pieces but simply for ornament, since the old-fashioned way of telling the hour in India by calculating the number of bamboo lengths the sun has travelled above the horizon is entirely satisfactory to the natives. It is said that in the country police stations in India where the European division of the hour is observed time is measured by placing in a tub of water a copper rod in which a small hole has been bored. It is supposed that it will take one hour for the water to leak into the pot so as to fill it and sink it. When the policeman sees that the pot has disappeared he strikes the hour on a bell-like gong. If he is smoking or drinking the copper pot may have disappeared several minutes before he discovers the fact but the hour is when he strikes the gong.

CALL POLICE TO STATE HOSPITAL

Second Time the Authorities Quell Disturbances in Insanity Investigation.

Wareham, Mass., Nov. 5.—The police were called to Wareham state hospital for the second time this afternoon since the investigation of the place was begun by the state board of insanity.

An officer was sent from station 1 at the request of John Addison Hulen, Boston, who is prosecuting the investigation in behalf of the petitioning nurses, to protect Mr. Hulen and his star witness of the day, Max E. Franklin.

Mr. Hulen alleged that an attack from male attendants, who have been accused in testimony, was feared. He claimed both he and Franklin, an attendant who left the hospital Tuesday, have been threatened by male attendants and feared physical violence if they left the place alone. The officer escorted them to union station.

Franklin, who testified on Monday, was permitted by the state board to take the stand in the afternoon, this being a reversal of the decision of the majority, Dr. Michael J. O'Meara and William F. Whittemore.

The decision that Franklin might testify even though declared by Chairman O'Meara to be a witness in rebuttal and not in direct testimony, came after a warm closed session, in which Mr. Hulen and Dr. L. Vernon Briggs, state board member, entered strenuous objections to excluding Franklin as a witness this afternoon. It was announced that trustees were also anxious Franklin should testify.

Tied to Bed for Days.

Franklin alleged that Matt I. Kennon was once tied to the bed for two weeks and that his body became covered with sores. From the hospital records Dr. Briggs read extracts showing this to be true. The date given in the records was Aug. 17, 1912, while Franklin fixed it five days earlier. No reason for the alleged tying was given.

That Charles Vogel, a patient now in New York, went two and one-half days without food was another allegation of the witness. Franklin said also in the course of lengthy testimony that attendants have stolen fruit and other delicacies from the patients. Franklin said that there is much that can be said in favor of Dr. Scribner in that he has tried to give a good administration.

Dr. Ernest V. Scribner, superintendent, put on many witnesses during the afternoon seeking to prove that allegations made against the hospital are untrue. He produced several witnesses to show that the food is good and that efforts to make it so were begun long before the investigation.

COLLEGE TRAINING CAMPS ARE OF GREAT BENEFIT TO THE ARMY

Washington, Nov. 5.—As a result of the successful summer of the experimental training camps for college men, the War Department has determined to organize at least four such training camps for college men next summer. The object of the 1914 experiments will be the same as that of the Gettysburg and Monterey, Cal., camps of a few months ago, and there is every reason to believe that from two to three times as many students as participated this year will take advantage of the opportunity next summer. As a military unit for the nation the War Department in announcing the four new camps for 1914 says that the value of these camps is incalculable. They increase, by just as many men as may attend the present inadequate force of trained or partially trained military reserve of the United States, and this increase will come from a class of men from whom, in a national emergency, a large proportion of the volunteer commissioned officers will probably be drawn, and upon whose judgment and training at such a time the lives of many other men will in a measure depend.

Safeguard for Nation.
"The object sought," the bulletin of the War Department announces, "is not in any way one of military aggression, but a means of meeting a vital need confronting a peaceful, unimpaired, though warlike, nation, to preserve that desired peace and prosperity by the best known precaution, viz., a more thorough preparation and equipment to resist an effort to break such peace."

"At these camps such troops of the regular army as may be necessary and as may be available at the time will be in attendance and will cooperate in the military instruction and in the different field manoeuvres, exercises and demonstrations. If practicable, opportunities will be offered to those who desire it to have a little experience and training in actually riding the horses of the cavalry or the operations of the artillery at drill. The theoretical principles of tactics, including advance and rear guard, patrol, outpost and combat, will be studied and explained in a series of tary policy and the addition thereof, and the present scheme as worked out by the general staff of the army. The camp will include a practice march of several days' duration, in which as nearly as possible such actual campaign conditions of march, bivouac and combat will be followed as the assumed situation would exact.

"This will be real military work, not play, and only students who come to learn are desired, a correct understanding of the principles involved being considered of more importance in the short time available for instruction than the exercise or movement itself; the minutiae and exact procedure of close order drill will only be insisted upon enough to insure discipline. Extended order drill and field exercises are considered most important."

President Drinker of Lehigh University, who has been on several occasions the camp at Gettysburg last summer, subsequently described it as one of the finest institutions he had ever seen. He said that he found nothing to criticize and everything to commend and admire.

"I can think," said President Drinker, "of no six weeks that could be spent by our boys to better advantage to themselves and with better promise to our country of development of good manly man and gentleman. The country owes a great debt of gratitude to the men who devised and put into effect this experiment for the benefit of our youth, and it is greatly to be hoped that it may go on and be developed and enlarged to embrace in succeeding years as many of our young men as possible, for in the training of our college and university youth nothing can be more valuable than this hard, disciplinary experience in obedience and regular clean living."

McMANIGAL IS RELEASED

He May Never Go Back to Prison, It Is Believed—Owes Freedom to Ill-Health.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 5.—The poor health of Orrie E. McManigal, the confessed dynamite maker, was the reason given yesterday by District Attorney John D. Fredericks for ordering what is believed to be the permanent release from the county jail of the nutty co-worker of the McNamara brothers and chief witness against thirty-three labor union leaders who were sentenced to the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth for complicity in a nation-wide dynamite conspiracy.

"McManigal has been in poor health for some time," Fredericks said, "and he has been taken out of jail on the advice of a physician. He may be back in a few days, a few weeks or a few months." Mr. Fredericks would give no further information.

According to jail attendants, McManigal's appetite and constantly increasing girth and weight indicate that his ill-health might have been due to over-eating. They said, however, that he had actually gone to a hospital but it was to have a surgical operation performed to remove from his forehead a great scar by which he feared former associates might recognize him.

PRESIDENT WILL NOT COME TO GRANGE MEETING

Washington, Nov. 5.—President Wilson had hoped to go to New Hampshire next week to address the convention of the National Grange, to be held at Manchester but as the time approaches it seems practically certain he will be unable to leave Washington at that time, on account of a pressure of business.

Secretary of Agriculture Houston, however, is making preparations to be present, and will address the convention on Nov. 14, unless unavoidably detained here at the last moment on account of a meeting of the Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations. Secretary Houston long ago promised to deliver an address before this association on Nov. 12, but hopes to be able to leave for New Hampshire immediately afterwards and meet with the National Grange on the 14th.

OF HISTORICAL INTEREST

The following communications between Hon. Frank W. Hackett and Charles A. Hazlett the local historian.

THE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1823

Craighton, Newcastle, N. H., October 20, 1913.

Chas. A. Hazlett, Esq., Portsmouth, N. H.

My dear Mr. Hazlett:—You are well aware that in 1847 there was privately printed, at the press of Charles W. Brewster, "The Essays of Andrew Halliburton," with a sketch of his character by my father. Appended to the Essays are letters, first of them written by Mr. Halliburton to his daughter. The dates of the letters are not given.

From page 676 I quote as follows: "I went to the centennial ball on the 21st instant, but did not dance, both from incapacity and want of inclination. I passed my time in what playing, without much impatience."

The next day Mr. Burroughs gave a most excellent address to over a thousand people in the North meeting house, but which I regret that I did not hear. I shall, however, subscribe to the printing of it, and when published shall send you one. In the evening they had a still more splendid ball in which the company was much more numerous, but more mixed."

The great centennial celebration of 1823 was an occasion when N. A. Haven delivered an address. But this address by Dr. Burroughs is a later production. It may have been a celebration of the settlement of Strawbery Bank, when the Great House was built, under Masonic auspices, in 1633.

Indeed, Halliburton's letter from his term evidence, was written, I should say, in 1831.

Was there a celebration at Portsmouth in 1823? If so, can you find some account of it in the Journal or Gazette?

So far as I am aware, Dr. Burroughs' address did not get into print. I turn to you, as one experienced in the happenings at Portsmouth of that period, and would thank you to give me some details in regard to the "centennial" of which Halliburton speaks; for which I would consider myself under great obligation if you will be so kind.

Yours Truly FRANK W. HACKETT, Portsmouth, Oct. 21, 1913.

Hon. Frank W. Hackett, Newcastle, N. H.

Dear Sir:—

In answer to your letter of October 21st, I wish to report that I read the 1831 volume of the Portsmouth Journal on file at the Public Library and failed to find any mention of a centennial celebration. Afterwards, found in a bound volume of addresses marked "P" in the Portsmouth Public Library, the address in full, entitled: "An Oration on the Moral Grandeur of George Washington, Delivered on the Centennial Anniversary of his Birth-day, February 22, 1862, by Charles Burroughs, Pastor of Saint John's Church." Also a column account in the Portsmouth Journal of February 23, 1832, of the procession of citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity, escorted by the Rockingham Guards and Portsmouth and vicinity, escorted by the Rockingham Guards and Portsmouth Artillery; and a reference to the address in the North Meeting House

HUNT IN VAIN FOR VANISHED COUPLE

New York, Nov. 5.—After months of persistent search of the hospitals and other public institutions in this and nearby cities by anxious relatives and friends, no trace of the whereabouts of Mr. and Mrs. John Belmont of 412 Stevens street of West Hoboken, N. J., has been found. Married a few months ago, the couple disappeared from their cozy little home in West Hoboken on June 24 last when they left the house, saying that they were going for a walk. What has become of them is a mystery.

The couple were married in the city hall here on February 14 by an older man.

The bride was Miss Frances Higgins of 405 West Twenty-first street, 29 years old and a dressmaker. The husband, 25, is an embalmer. Immediately after their marriage they settled in the West Hoboken house, and according to their neighbors lived happily together.

When they disappeared they left behind several trunks of clothing, and all of the furnishings of their home, taking nothing with them but what they wore.

Constipation causes headache, indigestion, drowsiness. For a mild, opening remedy, use Doan's Regula. 25 cents a box at all stores.

SURPRISED BY SCHOOLMATES

The friends of Miss Nathalie Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Clark of Richards avenue, surprised that young lady at her parents' home on Wednesday evening with a little party in honor of her birthday.

It was a complete surprise but soon recovered from it and the young people enjoyed games, music and dancing. During the evening Miss Clark was presented with a gold bracelet the presentation being made by John Henshall. Refreshments of ice, cake and soda were served.

Those present were Misses Frances and Mabel Young, Bertha Chapman, Doris Kaula, Barbara Flanagan, Margaret Quinn, Phyllis Philney and Frances McCarthy, Messrs. Earl Briggs, John Henshall, Frank Massey, Clayton Mudgett, Paul Conover, Warren Hafford, Ralph Eaton, Norman Bond and Melvin Clark.

CHICKENS AT $10 A PIECE

The La Fleche fowls of France are in demand in very wealthy households and in high class cafes. Fine specimens sometimes bring ten dollars and a very general price is five dollars each. Probably no other country has a market for chickens at such prices; the French gourmet must have what he wishes regardless of cost.

Tobacco That Comes To You Cut Up, Comes Dried Up

Nature never intended anything she grows to be cut up until just before it is used. Everybody knows that food should be fresh—and so should tobacco.

Sickle Plug comes to you fresh—with all the original flavor and moisture pressed into the plug. You slice up the tobacco as you use it, and the last pipeful smokes as cool, sweet and satisfying as the first—because the natural leaf wrapper keeps Sickle Plug fresh. The chopped-up tobacco that comes in packages cannot help getting dry, smoking hot and scorching.

Try a plug of Sickle today—get more tobacco, by having no package to pay for—and get more enjoyment by smoking fresh tobacco. At all dealers.

Portsmouth, N. H., Thursday, November 6, 1913.

Praise From an Unexpected Source.

We have always maintained that the average American was about as good a citizen as could be found, but now comes a foreign princess who further backs up this assertion by saying that American husbands make the best husbands. Commenting on this fact the Newburyport News says:

"Of course, we all believe this without being told. And if we did not the experience of the American girls who have married abroad would bring conviction. The American man may have many faults, and yet he is, above the men of most nations, considerate of his wife, and gives her a measure of rights which women get in few countries. It is an American idea that a woman is as good as a man, and it may be better, and that she is to be regarded, not as a personal servant, not as an appendage to increase man's glory, but as a companion, a partner, a person who has her own life to live, a life which is as important as that of the husband's. The European environment is far different from that in America. The customs and habits of centuries are not to be overcome except in the case of unusual persons. Both men and women do well to marry among their own kind and into a circle with which they are familiar. There is cheer in having confirmation of this idea from a competent source."

Waste in Our Kitchens.

Greatest, greater, or great, waste there is, enough to account for many a failure to make ends meet. The average American housewife, or her servant, wastes good meat, that might go into palatable and nourishing stews, soups or hash. Contempt for small economy is a national characteristic, and nowhere is it more in evidence than in the kitchen. Meat is not the only thing wasted by any means. Economy in millions of homes would mean much in the aggregate, even if it did not solve the cost of living problem, which, of course, is too complex to yield to any simple sovereign solution. Waste is almost criminal. We work—most of us—too hard in this world to be justified in throwing away anything that we or others could use. A dollar saved is a dollar available for comfort, pleasure, or provision for old age. He or she who makes seven meals grow where six grew before is a benefactor of mankind.—Bangor News.

Ban on Animal Dancing at Manchester.

An edict has gone forth in Manchester that hereafter there will be no more "animal dances" at the Manchester high school hall. The student body and teachers are working hand in hand to eliminate this sort of dancing at the class gatherings and have gone so far as to secure a dancing master to correct any couple indulging in the "bunny hug," "turkey trot" or "grizzly bear." Principal Libby has taken a decided stand in the matter and in an address delivered to the students he said that unless dancing on Friday evening is conducted satisfactory to the faculty and the instructor it will be discontinued for an indefinite period. The action of Principal Libby is to be commended and it is about time that the ban was placed on this class of dancing in Portsmouth.

Up to the People.

If there is at present complaint as to the quality of legislation we are getting, the people have it entirely within their power to remedy that condition. They have only to see to it that honest and competent men are chosen to represent them. The right of selection rests wholly with them and then can have precisely the kind of representation they desire. If they are not sufficiently interested to nominate and elect men of integrity and ability and in many instances they are not, they can hardly be expected to manifest the intelligent interest necessary to secure the enactment of wise legislation when intrusted with the exercise of the lawmaking function.—Springfield Union.

Beef Trust Defiant.

J. Ogden Armour says: "It is absurd to suggest that the United States government can interfere with our business in the Argentine." And he adds: "We are going right ahead with our plans and have 4000 tons of beef ready for shipment." The beef trust announces its intention to defy the United States government. Its attitude is anarchistic. Uncle Sam is likely to find a way in the near future to cope with this great trust; and Mr. Armour may decide that the suggestion is not so "absurd" as he claims to believe. The American people are going to have cheaper beef, with or without the consent of the beef trust.—New Bedford Times.

Congressman John W. Weeks of Massachusetts predicts that the republican party of the Bay State will be united in 1914. Here's hoping that John is a good prophet.

MORE WARSHIPS DISPATCHED THE MEXICAN COAST

Chester Ordered in Full Commission—Vessels Now in Those Waters Will Stay After Fresh Craft Arrive—United States Will Have Ten on the East Coast in a Few Days.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The most significant thing bearing on the present strained relations between the Wilson administration and the government of President Huerta was the announcement by the navy department that the scout cruiser Chester has been placed in full commission and will leave Philadelphia in a day or two for the east coast of Mexico, and that the armored cruiser California which was to have been relieved from service on the west coast of Mexico by the armored cruiser Pittsburgh, would remain there after the Pittsburgh arrived.

When the Chester reaches Vera Cruz there will be ten U. S. warships on the east coast of Mexico, this number is inclusive of one or two battleships that will go to Galveston whenever it is feasible in order to give their crews shore liberty. Until yesterday there have been only six American warships on the east coast, inclusive of the vessel permitted to proceed to Galveston.

Yesterday the battleships, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Virginia arrived at Vera Cruz and it was announced shortly before they reached there that the battleships that they were sent to relieve would not be withdrawn. Although the Secretary of the Navy explained today that he had added the Chester to the force in eastern Mexico waters without consulting the secretary of state, the sudden and heavy augmentation of the American squadron in that vicinity appears to be significant.

On the face of things the government seems to be preparing for a possible emergency requiring the use of force.

In addition to the significance attached to the orders to the Chester, it was pointed out today that this vessel was fitted with the most powerful radio telegraphic apparatus of any ship in the United States navy. It is believed that she would be able to communicate by wireless from Vera Cruz to the Pensacola navy yard, and perhaps be able to send messages to and receive them from the naval radio station at Arlington, Va., a few miles from Washington.

It is apparent that seven battleships and three other war vessels are more than sufficient to attend to the work of relieving distressed American citizens who may desire to quit Mexico. The navy department acknowledged this in his statement some time ago, and when Rear Admiral Bouché's squadron of battleships reached Vera Cruz, the battleships already there would return to the United States.

The change of plan was evidently determined on very recently. It came at a time when the Mexican situation had become critical and when this government was giving consideration to taking to being to an end the condition of affairs in that country.

Secretary Daniels explained that the dispatch of the Chester was part of the plan to substitute cruisers for the heavier battleships in Mexican waters so that the latter might resume practice and maneuvers. The change, he said would be made gradually as cruisers were not available on the east coast in any number.

As the Chester is one of the fast ships of the navy, having made more than 20 1-2 knots on her last trip, she should reach Vera Cruz by next Monday evening or Tuesday morning.

NEW CASTLE

Winter by the seashore may be a number of weeks away, but winter is much in evidence in diverse places. While we feel the invigoration of the conditions which it creates, we are looking forward to St. Martin summer holiday days. We have rejoiced in the effluence of summer in the fruitfulness of autumn. And now the crops are gathered and the fruits are gathered we should welcome those marvelous days the season short but wonderfully sweet, condensing all the joys of nature into a few short days which is one of the annual blessings most conspicuous in the gifts of God to our favored land.

the elements in an endeavor to make them serve the schooner's proper course, Captain Nelson found himself on last Saturday morning off Nantucket.

At 2.30 that morning Harold Frost, who was on watch, sighted a light, which was made out to be Sankaty Head. The wheel was turned over to Captain Nelson with the vessel heading inshore. For half an hour the skipper endeavored to work his vessel off the course, which led to Rosa and Crown Ledge. But his efforts were without avail and the vessel ran aground on the ledge, which lies 12 miles southeast of Sankaty, during heavy seas.

The crew felt their vessel would break beneath the waves. They feared for their lives and counselled abandonment. Captain Nelson agreed. Preparations were made to leave in the schooner's boats.

Third Boat Gets Away Safely.

Three were put over the leeward side before one was launched. The first was smashed; the second was swamped; the third was floated, and eight men put out in it.

Effort was made to launch two other boats over the leeward rail, but both were smashed. The men then turned to the schooner's windward side where two boats were dropped overboard safely. One held three men; the last contained Captain Nelson and three of his crew.

It was pitch dark and the boats were lost to the sight of men in the other craft almost in a moment. The occupants endeavored by cries to convey their position to their mates; but they could not get together. The last seen of the boat in which Captain Nelson left his ship, was when it was rounding the bow of the schooner. The seas were running high, with towering crests and deep troughs, and in one of these hollows the little craft swung around the bow and out of sight.

No Water or Food.

The men in the other two boats did not see each other during the night, but at daybreak they sighted each other and met. Account of stock was taken. Then it was found that neither had water or food; they were about in small boats without means of maintenance, and lightly clad.

They were short of oars. An old row-boat, used to haul, was their only protection against the howling sea.

To even matters somewhat, two of the men in the first boat, which had contained eight, were transferred to the second with three men.

The boats had drifted more than half a dozen miles during the night, for at dawn, the shipwrecked sailors saw Sankaty Head the miles away. They were forced to fight against off-shore winds and broke two of their scanty supply of oars in so doing.

Drifted Helplessly About.

Drifting about helplessly against wind and tide the boats were buffeted by heavy seas kicked up on a freshening wind.

Their little boats were in danger; the lives of the men were imperiled. Reuben Kenney, the cook, was clinging to the stern of one of the boats as were several others. But his clutch was not firm enough for one wave tore him from the boat, engulfed him and carried the cook away, fighting to get back to the boat. It was a long fight, for the men on the boats, although plying their few oars steadily, could do no more, and it was an unsuccessful fight, for Kenney was drowned.

The fishermen drifted through the night, watching a wink of sleep occasionally, but more often holding to the boat and to each other as a guard against the clutch of the sea. On Sunday morning, a vessel was sighted, but it was not the schooner.

Hope is Again Vanished.

A steamer appeared on the horizon, sped eastward and into the distance. The men had little hope left. During the forenoon another schooner was seen; skiffs were again flashed in the sun; slickers once more hoisted on oars. This time they were seen. The schooner was the Tifton, Capt. Emil Carson, Jacksonville, Fla., for Portland, with lumber. Captain Carson headed his vessel for the little boats and picked their occupants up 20 miles south, southeast of Sankaty Head.

The men were almost exhausted. They had to be helped over the schooner's rail.

Healed to be a fisherman. Oil skin coats and white shirts were torn off and fastened to oars as signals. Men waved other shirts frantically to attract attention, but the schooner passed without sighting them.

Harry Nelson, son of the captain, was almost unconscious from exhaustion and worry over his father's disappearance.

WORTH KNOWING.

CURRENT OPINION

A POLITICAL FORECAST.

The American people are a competent people, and nothing so quickly disgusts them and alienates them from a political party as incompetence. Nothing more effectively illustrates incompetence than the democratic party. Gradually it will become more obvious to all that the election of a complete democratic administration last November was a calamity to the nation. And then will come a revolution and a return to the party which for nearly half a century has administered the affairs of this nation wisely and well; which built up the manufacturing and the agricultural interests of the country; which produced a degree of prosperity which thus far even democratic incapacity has proved unable to destroy; which extended the foreign trade of the nation to proportions beyond the wildest dreams of a previous generation; which has developed more sincere, practical progressives within its own ranks than all the other parties combined; which made the United States a world-power, respected by all, and won for its citizens safety and protection under the American flag in every civilized nation in the world; and which in the near future will take up the task it has temporarily laid down, will remedy the results of democratic incapacity and once more restore those conditions which make Americans proud to be Americans, and which invite the envy and the admiration of all the world. Charles D. Miller, formerly of the United States Treasury.

The supplies aboard the Tifton were low and the added 16 hungry mouths taxed the schooner's lockers to their utmost. The Boston fisherman Josie and Phoebe was sighted and hailed. The skipper did not have any fish aboard, but set a trawl and pulled in a goodly catch, which, with flour and meat, was turned over to the Tifton's captain.

Harry Nelson remained with the Josie and Phoebe in the hope that he might be able to obtain some trace of his father and three mates.

UNIVERSALISTS CLOSE A SUCCESSFUL SALE

The second and final night of the Universalist church bazaar was held on Wednesday evening at Freeman's hall and, with a larger attendance than the first evening and before the evening closed practically everything had been taken.

The booths were freshly stocked and the attendants were kept busy all the evening with sales, so that at the close everything was disposed of.

An entertainment was given during the evening and there was a program by the orchestra.

Vocal selections were rendered by the Ladies' Trio, which consists of Misses Florence Garrett, Florence Hanscom, Heloise Whittier. There was the Topsy Turvey dance by the children and a brief farcical sketch entitled, "His Second Time on Earth."

by Miss Phyllis Hall and Mr. Reginald Hall.

A buffet lunch was served during the evening under the direction of Mrs. George D. Whittier and Mrs. Albert H. Entwistle. The men served the lunch.

The able chairman of the executive committee was Rev. George C. Boorn.

The executive board was Mrs. George D. Whittier, President of the Ladies' Social Circle; Mrs. A. H. Entwistle, superintendent of the Junior Union; J. Verne Wood, president of the Young Peoples' Christian Union, and George D. Whittier, senior warden.

LADIES' AID MEET

The Ladies' Aid of the Pearl Street church, held a meeting Wednesday afternoon and evening in the vestry of the church. A supper was served at 6 o'clock which consisted of baked beans, brown, graham, and white bread, relishes, pies, cakes, coffee and tea. The supper was most successful and well attended.

The hostesses of the occasion were Mrs. W. T. Lord, Mrs. Elizabeth Chandler and Mrs. Josephine Moore.

HUNKINS WILL SUSTAINED BY A JURY VERDICT

Case Has Been On For Three Days-- Jury Out But a Short Time

The will of James Hunkins of Sandown, was sustained by the jury in the Superior Court on Wednesday evening. The case was that of Gupill vs Hunkins, being an action brought against Attorney E. L. Gupill, executor of the will of James Hunkins of Sandown, by Frank Hunkins of Haverhill, who appeared from the decision of the Probate Court allowing the will. In the will Mr. Hunkins, who was a bachelor, left the bulk of his fortune, estimated at $50,000 to his sister, a maiden lady, well along in years, who has always lived and taken care of her brother and a bequest of some timber land to a young man who has lived in the family. The brother was left some property, but he considered that he should have half. The case has been on since Monday and there were a great many witnesses. The contention of Frank Hunkins was that his brother was of unsound mind when the will was made and that he was unduly influenced by his sister. The arguments were made by former Attorney General Eastman for Hunkins and by Col. John H. Bartlett for the will. The case went to the jury at six o'clock and shortly after they went out to supper, and they were out but ten minutes after their return when they brought in a verdict sustaining the will. Gupill, Bartlett & Mitchell for the will, Eastman, Scammon and Gardner for Hunkins.

identified it shows her where to make her mark in his book, for she cannot write her name. For a moment she stands with clasped hands, her eyes fixed on the room which she has just left.

"May I take the roses with me?" she asked pleadingly. The reply is in the affirmative. She goes back to the bare, cold mortuary. A bunch of faded roses is lying beside the corpse. Greedily, cunningly, as though frightened that the officer might go back on his word, and without a thought for the body beside her, she gathers up the precious bundle. She counts them over once, twice, lest there be any mistake. Then, with a quiet good by she takes her leave.

Once in her own home, she puts the flowers in water, but the faded petals refuse to resume their appearance of freshness. "The devil take them," she mutters disgustedly. "They are not worth my candles—not even on the Tverskaya." She takes a needle and pricks the long, green stems in the last effort to revive them, but the flowers are as dead as the child whom she has just left.

"CASCARETS" RELIEVE SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Move Acids, Gases and Clogged-Up Waste from Stomach, Liver, Bowels—Cure Indigestion

Get a 10-cent box now. That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, dizziness and sick headache means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and gas; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little bodies need a good gentle cleansing, too.

THRIFTLESS NEW HAMPSHIRE

The Granite State is Read a Sharp Lesson on How She is Not Conserving Herself—a Job for Her Educated Boys. New Hampshire is gracefully boasting this fall that 75 per cent of the young men who attend the State College are self-supporting, and that one of the students in the agricultural department of that institution won the first prize in a stock judging contest at Chicago. That is all worth bragging about. But it tends people up there into mentioning a great deal of hope which they do not realize. They hope the young men thus educated will proceed to improve the fruits and other products of the land. The college has been doing great work for more than twenty years, and the people of New Hampshire buy more fruit from the market cities outside of the state than within it, ten to one. They eat more Western beef than state beef, twenty to one. They import also eggs to one their home lay. That is the New England rule of buying to produce.

A Worcester man went up through Vermont and New Hampshire last summer and stopped at some hotels. He had eaten eggs on the table for three weeks before he took the trip, but not an egg was served at any hotel where he was. The eggs he got were canned in Maine the year before, or sooner. He ate crackers baked in Worcester and eggs laid in some unknown place and bought in Boston, as was the beef, fresh and canned. The butter in three New Hampshire hotels came from a Vermont creamery. The vegetables, even for boiled dinners, came in boxes from Boston, more than 150 miles away, and the potatoes for all meals came from the same source. When one old hotel man was asked if the customers were natives he said he was not sure whether they came from Florida or California, but the ice on them he got out of his own pond last winter. He added that he had to be economical about the ice because he must pay for coal from Pennsylvania and the lights went out in bedrooms at twelve o'clock nights, because there was no use feeding coal into the boilers to make the electricity when it wasn't needed to sleep by, but the old man admitted that there was wasting power enough in the river, half a mile from his house, to light the whole country for one hundred miles either way, all the time, and nobody had sense enough to turn that power into light. Perhaps they were all out to Chicago, judging cattle for prizes.

How many of those boys educated in the technical trades have put a New Hampshire water power to work? How many of them are on the New Hampshire farms? There was no trouble getting Hesper ginger ale and Hesper pie for lunch at a small station when the train stopped, but the salt for the boiled eggs was in wooden boxes made in New Jersey. Janes' ale was found on draft in the Portsmouth station, but that is made to pay duty.

GOVERNOR WALSH WILL HAVE COUNCIL OF DEMOCRATS

Legislature Will Be Controlled By Progressives and Democrats.

Boston Nov. 5.—Lieutenant Governor David L. Walsh of Fitchburg, elected governor by a plurality of 63,891, carrying along with him, his fellow-candidates for state office on the Democratic ticket by pluralities ranging in round numbers from 28,000 for lieutenant governor down to 6,000 for attorney general.

The Executive Council practically will stand three straight Republicans, three straight Democrats, one who ran under the two designations of "Progressive Party, Democratic," and one who ran under the two designations of "Democratic, Progressive Party." Lieutenant Governor Barry also will have a vote.

The Senate, according to the latest returns, will stand twenty-one Republicans, seventeen Democrats and two Progressives, making it perilously close from a Republican standpoint, if the Bull Moose should form a coalition with the Democrats. This is especially true in view of the defeat of President Greenwood, which will lead to a sharp contest to decide who shall wield the gavel.

The House at present stands: Republicans 117, Democrats 103, Progressives 17, Independents 2, Socialist 1. A coalition there, if made, could defeat Speaker Cushing, elect a Democratic Speaker and reorganize the lower branch of the Legislature.

Those are the concrete results of yesterday's election in Massachusetts.

Walsh's plurality is the largest ever given a Democratic candidate for governor in Massachusetts. He will be inaugurated as the forty-sixth governor of Massachusetts, the sixth of his political faith to be chosen since the Republican party came into power, and the first of his religious belief to hold the office of governor.

REPUBLICANS TO ORGANIZE

Hillsboro County Will Pattern After Rockingham Republican Club. The first gun was fired in the political campaign yesterday when a meeting of Republicans of the county was held at Manchester. The purpose of the meeting was to make preliminary plans for the organization of the Hillsboro County Republican Club.

Representatives of all the cities and towns of the county attended the meeting. Representative Charles A. Perkins was temporary chairman and Representative Robert A. French of Nashua was elected secretary.

After the meeting had been explained, the meeting was thrown open and about twenty short speeches were made by the delegates, all in favor of Republican organization for the coming campaign.

Upon motion of Sherman E. Burroughs, the chair was instructed to name a committee of three which should retire and select a committee of nine men to draw up plans for county organization and arrange for a Republican mass meeting at a future date. The chair selected Mr. Burroughs, Charles S. Emerson of Milford and Representative Robert A. French of Nashua on this committee.

The committee reported back an organization board of nine men to consist of Clinton A. McNamee of Milford, Representative Albert Thierlein of Nashua, George A. Proctor of Wilton, Timothy E. Driscoll of Peterboro, Dr. Nazaire E. Hran of Manchester, Charles E. Butterfield of Andover, Charles M. Shenton of Nashua, Charles A. Perkins of Nashua and Robert A. French of Nashua of Manchester.

This board will meet at some later date and draw up a constitution and set up by laws. These will be submitted to the Republicans of the county who will be called into session in mass meeting later in the winter. At that meeting the board will recommend that a county club be formed for the purpose of taking in charge the Republican party in the county. It was then decided to do this and adopt the constitution and by-laws submitted it will then be in order to elect permanent officers and an executive committee.

The mass meeting will probably be held in the city hall. Every town and ward organization will be asked to send at least one delegate to represent its desires in the matter under consideration.

The plan of organization to be submitted will probably be patterned after that of the Rockingham county club which is the only Republican county organization of the present time. This organization was organized twenty years ago when Rockingham was the strongest Democratic county in the state. At the first election in which the club took charge, the Republicans carried the county and have never since been defeated in it and in late years Rockingham has been the Republican stronghold of the state.

They were due not to the submergence of the Republican party by a Democratic tidal wave or landslides but rather to the further division of the Republican party, which last year through the entrance of the Bull Moose, resulted in the election of a Democratic lieutenant governor and secretary of the Commonwealth.

Walsh and his fellow nominees are "minority" officials just as Wilson is a "minority" President. Charles Sumner Bird, Progressive, was the only gubernatorial candidate who actually increased his vote over that of last year. Then he had 125,602. Yesterday he received 120,577. Walker's vote as the Republican candidate in 1912 was 143,597. Gardner yesterday had 116,314. Foss, as the regular Democratic candidate last year had 193,184 votes. Yesterday, after an eleven-hour entry as an "Independent," he dropped to 20,815. Walsh, for lieutenant governor, last year had 192,710, as against 180,308 for governor yesterday. The total vote for governor yesterday was 444,174, a large vote for an off-year. In the presidential year of 1912 it was 475,792.

Walsh's plurality is the largest ever given a Democratic candidate for governor in Massachusetts. He will be inaugurated as the forty-sixth governor of Massachusetts, the sixth of his political faith to be chosen since the Republican party came into power, and the first of his religious belief to hold the office of governor.

Today's meeting coming on the day after election in other states, and nearly nine months before the height of the next primary campaign, gave the earliest start to politics it ever had. But the speeches at the meeting were to the effect that since the Republican party has a fight on its hands to redeem the state, it behooves early action and an elimination of old leaders and old methods.

Hillsborough county is the largest in the state by far and contains the two largest cities in the state. It elects over a quarter of the legislature and casts even larger proportion of the popular vote for state offices. At the present time all the county officers are Republicans except one of the commissioners and the solicitor. But a majority of its legislators were Democrats last time for governor and congressmen.

TOO GOOD TO BE GREAT

This happened in a small town in Missouri last week at the annual picnic. A faker, from his improvised platform, was trying to attract the attention of the crowd. His first effort was to proclaim in stentorian tones that he was going to convert four silver dollars into a $5 bill by some magic process. This alluring promise was seemingly forgotten later and never fulfilled. Suddenly he projected the question: "What day of the month is this?" The crowd, fearing some hoax, was silent, but a small lad piped up the correct date and the faker nodded his approbation and called out: "Now, you're a bright boy; come up on the stand and hold these four silver dollars I have wrapped up in this handkerchief," reaching out his hand and helping the youth up.

"What is your name?" inquired the faker.

"George Carpenter." "George Carpenter?" repeated the man. "That is a good American name. Who knows but you may some day be the governor of this glorious state? Who knows? How old are you, George?"

"Eleven years old," came the prompt response. "Well, you are a bright boy, indeed. Have you a father?" "Yes." "Did you ever tell a lie?" "No sir." "Did you ever steal anything?" "No sir." "Did you ever cheat anybody?" "No sir." The faker shook his head hopelessly. "Well, George, I am sorry to blast your hopes, but a boy who has never lied, never stolen, or never cheated any one could never be governor."—Kansas City Star.

The Praise That Comes From Frank's Portland People.

One kidney remedy has known more Portland people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Portland testimony proves it reliable.

Arlon A. Ballou, machinist, 378 Pleasant St., Portland, N. H., says: "I think as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I first used them. For some time my kidneys were out of order and caused my back to become very lame and painful. I finally got so bad that I could not attend to my work, as my sudden movement sent sharp twinges through my body. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Philbrick's Drug Store, came to my relief and I have had practically no trouble from my kidneys since using them. Whenever I hear anyone complaining of back-ache, I advise a trial of Doan's Kidney Pills and know of several persons who have acted on my suggestion and have been benefited."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

LET THE HERALD SOLVE YOUR "AD" PROBLEM

How many times do your salesmen fail to do business because the way wasn't prepared for them with properly placed advertising?

It's the newspaper that must win a hearing today for your product. Advertising is necessary in making sales because purchasers have to be first interested in your goods—have to be first convinced that you really have something worth while to offer them—before they buy.

No selling plan can be effective, and no sales force can bring home the bacon without direct advertising. It's the very life-blood of business.

If you wish us to criticize your advertising we shall be pleased to give you our opinion without charge. We write the right ads to make advertising good advertising.

GRANGERS HERE ON NOV. 21

Plans for Their Entertainment While in This City.—Coming on Special Train

Richard Patton of the State Grange arrived in this city on Wednesday evening to make arrangements for a visit of members of the National Grange on Friday, November 21. He made his headquarters at the Rockingham where he met Mayor Daniel W. Badger, George P. Smallwood of the Grange, Hon. Wallace Hackett, Hon. William E. Mayhew and A. O. Bennett of the Board of Trade as a committee to make preliminary plans for the occasion. State Master Patton informed the committee that about 100 with ladies would arrive here at 2:30 by a special train on that day coming from the New Hampshire College at Durham after a banquet at noon. The committee with several leading citizens will meet the visitors at the depot with automobiles and proceed to the navy yard via New Castle. On their return they will assemble at Freeman's Hall where Strawberry Bank Grange will serve a lunch and where several of the visitors are expected to speak. The committee expects to arrange for an hours' entertainment at one of the local picture houses after lunch. The local Board of Trade and the Grange will co-operate in the necessary arrangements. Mr. Headfield will select a committee to add the organization in procuring twenty or twenty-five autos which will be needed for the trip across the river and about the city. The party will leave for Manchester at 8 p. m.

the regular course of the trans-Atlantic liners, and no ships call there.

Premier Scenic Temple Programme

For Wednesday and Thursday The Foreman's Treachery—Edison Two Reels.

The famous mountain scenery of Wales makes an ideal background for this stirring tale of the mines. A wild ride down the mountain side in an ore car and a tremendous blast in which the foreman, a thief and a murderer, meets his deserved fate, are two important features of the film. Featuring Mr. Marc McDermott and Miss Miriam Nesbitt.

SONG—On the Old Fall River Line. Miss Evelyn Francoeur. The Ballyhoo's Story—Vitascope. Told by an old Indian Chief, who pathetically and beautifully depicts the tragic love of his daughter.

The Golden Cloud—Selig. A strong play of sentiment with the excellent of the stockmarket to make it whirl, clinches a heartbreak and takes advantage of a lucky turn in the stock market to make important money play a good part.

The Abduction of Pinkie. Is a lively farce comedy on the same reel with a hearty laugh from start to finish.

SONG—Come and Kiss Your Little Baby.

Miss Evelyn Francoeur. Temptations of a Great City—Three Reels.

A thrilling and sensational drama, showing the lure and temptations of a great city. A picture of unusual strength and merit.

COMING FEATURE for Friday and Saturday: "IN THE BISHOP'S CARRIAGE"—Four Reels. Featuring Miss Mary Pickford. A fascinating drama of the underworld that approaches tragedy and ends in romance.

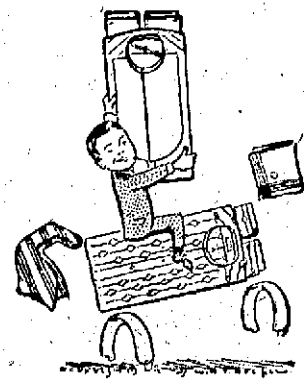

COMING Monday and Tuesday: Augustus Thomas' Greatest Masterpiece: "ARIZONA" in six reels.

WOULD NOT ACCEPT.

Former Judge Simes Would Not Accept Mayoralty Nomination If Thus Honored by Both Parties.

There has been some talk about the city of Judge Thomas H. Simes being nominated as a candidate for mayor. A Herald man met the Judge this morning and propounded the question to him as to whether he would accept the nomination. "No, sir," came the quick response, "and I would not accept it if I were nominated by both parties. I do not care to take up any business outside of my profession."

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Purifiers reached the cause.—J. H. Walker, Sashbury, Ohio.

FALL FURNISHINGS.

Here are all the smart things in furnishings to go with our smart suits and overcoats.

In high grade shirts—the "coming" demi-bosom model in pretty patterns and good variety; soft pleated bosom and French cuffs—another smart effect.

These along with our big lines of regular models make a splendid shirt showing.

GAVE CHICKEN PIE DINNER

Ladies of Methodist Church Still Maintain Their Reputation as Caterers.

A most successful chicken pie dinner and supper was held in the vestry of the First Methodist Episcopal church on Miller avenue on Wednesday.

A most appetizing dinner was served from 12 to 2 o'clock which embraced the following substantial viands: chicken pie, mashed potatoes, squash, cranberry sauce, celery, apple, nutmeg, squash and pumpkin pie, coffee and tea.

At 2 o'clock the Ladies Aid held their regular monthly business meeting and the regular routine of business was carried out. It was announced that the substantial sum of $50 was realized from the harvest dinner and supper given in October.

Following the business meeting a baked bean supper was served, consisting of baked beans, rolls, brown bread, potatoes, peas, cake, tea and coffee.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. George B. Chadwick, chairman of kitchen, with Mrs. Fred Robinson, Mrs. Charles Jensen and Mrs. Hoffman as her able assistants.

The following were the waitresses who lent every effort to give good service to their patrons: Mrs. Buzzard, Mrs. Chester Norton, Mrs. Harry Crossley, Mrs. Inez McIntire, and Miss Carrie Hickey.

Mrs. J. Howard Grover was ticket seller and Mrs. A. Long, ticket collector.

Both the dinner and supper were well attended.

A FEW FACTS.
